The music pagoda of Póvoa e Meadas was built by Banda da Sociedade Recreativa e Musical de Póvoa e Meadas (the local brass band) in honor of cap. António Francisco Marques, the founder. Inaugurated in 1928, June 24, it is still the main stage of some local festivities and events. It is a six-sided pagoda with 3,10 m large and stands at 1,70 m high, built with stone and lime, the floor is made of mortar and discovered with zinc plates fixed on a metallic structure. It is surrounded by a lovely iron fence and lighted by a lamp. This pagoda gives life and beauty to the public garden - Jardim do Largo do Rossio.
